The existing premises were to be sold. She advised that crime in Woodstock had fallen in the five months to 31 August 2016 compared to the same period in 2015. She gave the following figures:

Violence without injury	32	26	19% fall
Violence with injury	13	10	23% fall
Grievous Bodily Harm	0	1	-

Superintendent Lowe concluded that Woodstock was a very safe place to live. She stated that, whilst property crime was down, internet crime and sexual crime reporting was increasing. The Chief Constable will have to make further cuts of £15million in 2016/7 with a reduction in front line officers for the first time but neighbourhood policing will not disappear. She announced that Woodstock's PC Chris Jones was the Thames Valley winner of Best Neighbourhood Policeman.

WTC/145/16 COUNTY AND DISTRICT COUNCILLOR'S UPDATES:

(i) Report from the County Councillor Ian Hudspeth

The report was noted. The recent report by OCC on the Woodstock East development was raised and several Councillors pointed out that the Council had previously supported other developments in the town but Cllr. Hudspeth maintained that the perception was that the Council opposed all development. He stated that more houses were needed because people were living longer and there were more children which created a demand for more homes. He stated that the Woodstock East site had good access to two railway stations and a dual carriageway road with cycle paths leading to it. In answer to a question he stated that development will only stop when the demand for housing abates.

The possible eviction of WUFA from its present location was raised. Cllr. Hudspeth stated that he had met the committee of WUFA and discussions were at an early stage. No imminent decision would be taken and dialogue was needed. However it was recognised that the Primary school would need more buildings. The land was owned by the Diocese.

Cllr. Cooper proposed and the Mayor seconded a motion that Woodstock Town Council should write to the Marlborough School congratulating them on their exam results.

The motion was passed with nine votes in favour and one against. two abstentions Cllr. Stokes abstained as she had a pecuniary interest being a staff member at the school.
